Product Description

Product Description:

Tempered Laminated Safety Glass is a type of double safety glass that is made by laminating two pieces of tempered glass with a layer of interlayer. This layer serves to hold the glass together and provide extra security against breakage. The glass itself is formed through a special tempering process that makes it resistant to breakage and increases its strength. The interlayer can be made of PVB, SGP, EVA, or other materials, and is available in various colors, including clear, ultra clear, F-green, bronze, grey, and blue.

Tempered Laminated Safety Glass is used across a variety of applications, including building and automotive. The glass is also treated with various surface treatments such as frosted, acid etched, and so on. Thanks to its double safety design, the glass is ideal for areas where extra security is needed, such as windows and doors.

As a leader in the glass industry, we offer a wide range of Tempered Laminated Safety Glass products to meet the needs of our customers. Our team of experienced professionals are committed to providing the highest quality products that are built to last. Whether it's for building, automotive, or other applications, we have the perfect solution for you.
